COST PRINCIPLES

- People before objects: prioritize safe collection, stewardship, and documentation before expansion.
- No double charging: each expense is assigned to one purpose and one funding source.
- Document allowability, quote or price basis, approval, receipt, payment, and asset custody.
- Track restricted and unrestricted support separately under fiscal-sponsor rules.
- Publish an annual category-level financial summary without exposing protected personal or vendor information.

BUDGET CONTROL

Control	Standard
Approval	Written approval threshold and delegated authority set by the fiscal sponsor.
Procurement	Document competition or price reasonableness for material purchases.
Assets	Tag durable equipment; record custodian, location, condition, and disposition.
Reconciliation	Monthly ledger-to-receipt review and quarterly variance report.
Contingency	Release only for documented needs; unused balance remains uncommitted.
Reporting	Annual open summary plus funder-specific reports and closeout.

PLANNING NOTE

The funding-source labels describe a target mix. They do not indicate that an agency or foundation has committed funds. Construction and human-subjects activities require separate readiness and approval gates regardless of available cash.
